Dedication

To the Undergraduates of Barringer High School, we proudly dedicate our Year Book. We do this with a faith that you will cherish the standards for which our school is famous. For us, the ideals of Barringer are soon to become the basis of inspiring memories; but for you the realization of these glorious traditions is yet to come. With hopeful hearts, we pass the burning torch, symbolic of truth, honor, and light, from our hands to yours; and we trust that you will work together with pride for a common goal of useful citizenship.

Class Song

Dedicated to the memory of our classmate, George Ehringer

Above the blazoned crest of ages,
Dark with winds of time,
The herald of the day presages
Deeds of worth sublime.

The glory of the suns commingled
Lights us from afar,
And deep within our hearts have singled
Out the guiding star.

The colors of our banner streaming,
Cygnet white, and blue,
Are noble patterns worth esteeming:
Light, and honor true.

Our flag, our symbol now, is flying
Proud on life's dark sea,
And like long friendship, never dying,
Lives in memory.

ALMA MATER

Over many a city old,
Famed in song and story.
Temple grey and castle hold
Catch the sunset glory.
So our Alma Mater proud
Looks o'er vale and meadow,
High between the sailing cloud
And its drifting shadow.
For her colors, first the blue

Of the April valley;
Then December's wintry hue
When the storm winds rally.
Newark High, thy fame we raise,
Many voices blending;
Through the years we pledge
thee praise,
Loyal to life's ending.

JUNIUS W. STEVENS

Barringer

in silent dignity she stands alone,
With scenic grandeur round her as her throne.
Her ivy-covered walls of stone stand strong
Beneath the misty clouds of early morn.
Her copper dome gleams in the noonday sun,
Symbolic of her prestige, proud and old.
A crystal lake before her calmly lies,
Reflects her shadows to the evening skies.

EDITH MADDEN

Night

The glory that was the sun has faded into the west,
And the blue shadow of evening hovers over the earth.
The whippoor-will's song floats gently across the hills,
As fleeting twilight makes way for the coming night.
Now the earth lies quiet under the blanket of darkness,
And peaceful rest comforts the weary world.

EDITH MADDEN

Autumn Dream

I wandered through a strangely lonely wood,
As lovely as a moonlight rose, and as
I gazed upon the tranquil beauty of
The forest's heart, I felt a deep unrest.
The sky had darker grown until it was
Not sky, but sunset-painted leaves, and all
The birds that frolicked joyfully about
Had flown away beyond those unreal clouds.
The mem'ry of their lyric movements changed
To the deep silence of a Sabbath prayer.
But then I heard the sweet soliloquy
Peculiar to all forest streams, and hope
Came back to me once more. A happiness
Of rev'rent dream-like thoughts had settled in
The twilight and my heart. The woodlands shone
With all the glory of His mind, and where
The sky of leaves had been, a smiling heav'n
Appeared, resplendent with His majesty.

EUGENE PRANDATO

Death and Transfiguration

The sea had turned its eyes away from all
The ships that sailed, and slept with guarded mind
As do old mountains—sanctum-like and dark—
A million strange forebodings filled the night
With unreal lamentations; moonlight, cold
And frightening, cast ghoul-like shadows on
The taunting cliffs of Cornwall. Silence tricked
The fancy of the shrouded sailing masts;
Debauch, low whispers swept beside the ship
And out upon the waiting water. Then
Clouds seized the moon and hid its light, and waves
Were born from out a guarded mind which slept—
Huge, turbulent, wild billows crashed and scaled
The cliffs, which stood as secret as a night
Of shadows—frothy, racing paths ensnared
The ship and hurled it madly at the wall
Of scathing night.—The sea then turned its eyes
Away—cold moonlight cast its grotesque form
Along the creviced pillars—echoes sighed,
And faded in the night from whence they came.

EUGENE PRANDATO

The Swan Of Tuonela

I hear a swan song, exquisite and rare,
A youthful retrospect intoned with age,
A plaintive melody of grief, the wage
Of faded memories.—To think how fair
The sunlit heavens are—to see the lair
Of rain, the clouds—oh, white and fatal bird,
Why have you come so soon? Why have I heard
Your ancient dirge, your mirthless, mournful air?
I hear the flapping of your wings, my call
To dark despondency.—But one last look
At what I loved, the fond and fertile earth,
Before we leave, oh Swan; I've seen it all
So often—yet I've seen it not. This book
Of life is closed, sad summoner to birth.

EUGENE PRANDATO

Cinquains

AFTERNOON

I felt
The silence of
A wind unheard, and saw
The sunlight tinkling on the leaves.
I slept.

OBSCURITY

Nothing
Comes of darkness.
Two there were—now none. Night
Hides our eyes, and perhaps it's well—
Still none.

PASTORAL

Three nymphs
Caught the sunlight
In their hair while dancing
By the pool of dusk, and then they Vanished.

REMEMBER?

FRESHMEN YEAR

FEBRUARY 1938—February in the snow . . . Freshmen assembling in the auditorium . . . Assigned to homerooms . . . Meeting our teachers . . . Crowded halls . . . Watching the mighty seniors . . . What a downfall from "tops" in elementary school to mere insignificant 1B's . . . Afternoon sessions . . . Darkness as we trudge home . . . Books! Books! Books! . . . Studies . . . Struggling with Latin . . . New friends . . . First report cards . . . Centennial play . . . Barringer celebrates her hundredth birthday.

SEPTEMBER 1938—Back to school . . . Renewing old friendships . . . Making new ones . . . Back to books and studying . . . The hurricane strikes . . . Dismissed early . . . Scamper home through pelting rain, blazing fires, and crashing trees . . . Our first football season . . . Cheers and songs galore . . . Our first East Orange-Barringer game . . . Holiday season . . . "My Reverie" . . . Freshman year ended.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

FEBRUARY 1939—Ah! Sophomores at last . . . Morning session . . . What a life! . . . Out before one . . . Science, geometry and French . . . Shakespeare's "To be or not to be, that is the question" . . . Privilege of joining clubs . . . Spring time . . . Romance and flowers budding . . . Groups go to the World's Fair.

JUNE 1939—Mr. Gurley retires.

SEPTEMBER 1939—We meet our new principal, Michael R. McGreal . . . Track meet . . . Football . . . Ice skating on the lake . . . Homework neglected . . . "Deep Purple" . . . Exams! . . . Two more years to go.

JUNIOR YEAR

FEBRUARY 1940—Time flying . . . Proud of our new rank . . . New rules enforced . . . Algebra again . . . Hard term . . . Easter vacation . . . Life exceedingly dull.

SEPTEMBER 1940—School life changes . . . Eight-period day . . . Our class organizes . . . Miss Lomas and Mr. Ammarell elected class advisers . . . Conscription Day . . . Now we'll never get a man . . . 3A Christmas Social . . . Girls struggle with inexperienced dancers . . . "I'll Never Smile Again" . . . Grand holiday season . . . Thus ends our third year.

SENIOR YEAR

FEBRUARY 1941—High and mighty seniors now . . . Seven-period day . . . Chemistry . . . First basketball dance . . . Advertisement for the assembly . . . Performers lost . . . Very embarrassing for somebody . . . Victorious in all the games . . . The class sells key ring pencils . . . Sponsor Amateur Show . . . Our first big financial success . . . Give senior reception June 6th . . . Dancing aboard the S. S. Barringer . . . 4A's yield their assembly seats to us . . . Very impressive . . . Much needed vacation.

SEPTEMBER 1941—"Tops" at last . . . Back to the eight-period day . . . Feeling of friendliness prevails . . . We plan for our Yearbook . . . Class rings . . . Pictures from Potter's Studio . . . Our last football season . . . Packed full of thrills . . . "Turkey Trot" given November 19th to celebrate the East Orange-Barringer game . . . Score 13-13 . . . Barringer triumphs as city champ . . . December 7, 1941, another kind of battle rages . . . Japan opens war on the United States . . . Probably a momentous day in our lives . . . 4A "Snow Ball" rolls December 19th . . . Year books given out . . . Autographs . . . Senior Day . . . Caps and Gowns . . . Diplomas . . . "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire" . . . Or do we?
